NEWS BY TO-DAY'S MAIL.

Ninety-five important mail routes in the South have been put in operation by the Post Office Department during the past month, which, with those already re-established since the close of the war, make up a total of two hundred and thirty routes on the main lines of travel now in full operation.

An accident which narrowly missed of fatal results occurred on the Grand Trunk railway, Tuesday morning, a few miles west of Kingston, C. W. Two cars were thrown from the track, but owing to the slow rate of speed the passengers escaped with slight bruises.

Two cattle trains collided on the Fitchburg (Mass.) railroad yesterday morning. No person was killed, though an engineer was badly injured. A large number of cattle and sheep were made beef and mutton of in the twinkling of an eye.

The Liberal assault on Matamoros, on the 25th ult., appears to have been a disastrous affair. Although successful at first, the Imperialists drove them away, inflicting a loss of five hundred killed and wounded, with slight loss to the former.

The English capitalists who have recently been making an extensive tour of this country with a view to inspect the opportunities for the investment of capital in our railroad system, sailed for England in the Scotia yesterday.

Asa Fitch, the well known manufacturer and millionaire of Fitchville, died on Monday night last.

The Georgia State Convention has repealed all Secession ordinances.

Hon. Caleb Cushing, who is said to be going to England on a confidential mission from the State Department, is still in Washington. It is asserted that he goes out as Commissioner to settle the Alabama claims or to confer on business relating to the Hudson Bay Company's affairs.

The numerous marine disasters on the Southern coast during the past fortnight have entailed heavy losses on many of the Wall street offices in New York, but it is feared all the bad news is now yet in.

John Campbell, Sr., lately died in Cecil county, Md., at the great age of 98 years. He had been blind for some years, and was so deaf that he had to be spoken to through a trumpet. During the four years of bloody strife, from which we have just emerged, he lived through them all without even a knowledge of there being war in the land, the manner of conversing being so irksome, and for other reasons, his relatives never informed him of the fact.

By order from the Quartermaster General, the attention of officers on duty in the several military departments is called to the great number of animals belonging to the United States in the possession of persons who have no legal title or rightful claim thereto. Such animals will be seized wherever found.

The Secretary of War has turned over to the School Commissioners of Montgomery county, Md., Government buildings valued at about $1,500, in consideration of damages done to school property in that county by the military forces of the United States.

The Richmond Enquirer, in calling attention to the Railroads in Virginia, remarks:

Hitherto, while the apparent object of these roads was the transportation of freight and passengers, so much political power attached to their organization that party and politics, rather than trade and commerce, were their real objects. This should now be changed. The officers to be elected should be men fitted by education and instruction, by practical experience and great business talents, for the posts they are to fill. As long as the State controls so much power in the organization of these companies, politics can never be ousted from their management. Fortunately the finances of the State will require the sale of the State's interest, and thus politics can be forever dethroned from its high place in the internal improvement interest of the State. This will be a fortunate day for Virginia. Then there will be railroad presidents instead of political managers, and the farming and commercial interests of the State, instead of political parties, will be the objects of these improvements.
